In winter we have a snowball fight.
My cousins, my dad, my sister, and my uncle are there. And we make an igloo, too.

The snow is cool. It feels soft and very cold.
It is still and white and nice. I like the snow.

Once upon a time there was two snowmen.
They were playing catch together before baseball. After that they were going inside to get some hot chocolate. Then they went outside to get some fresh air. It stopped snowing and became sunny out. The two snowmen melted.

One day a snowman was alive. He said, "I can't be in this hot water!" So he ran away. He found a town, but the town was dark. So he went somewhere else. He found a house. In the house there were kids, so he went in that house to see the kids and he was so happy.

It was a cold winter night. He went on the sleigh even though his mother said not to because it was too dangerous. He knew that there are legends of people dying on that frozen lake but the risk is what made it so exciting. He saw something move. The whole city heard a scream. However, he still rode. He stopped the sleigh. All of a sudden, the sleigh started to move again. Then at the very last moment the ice broke. The boy turned and turned. Splash! He fell in. He was never seen again. One cold winter night a little boy was riding on the lake. The ice broke. Something popped out. The whole city heard the scream.

I love
snowball fights.

Chinstrap Penguins

Chinstrap penguins are cool types of animals. Chinstrap penguins have babies that have white feathers. They are brave penguins because they are not scared of the elephant seals. They have special pouches in their mouths for their babies. They are cool animals to watch and learn about.

Rockhopper Penguins

Rockhoppers can do a lot of things. Every rockhopper penguin likes to hop on rocks. The rockhopper penguins have bright yellow feathers on their eyebrows. Rockhopper penguins are good at swimming. I think rockhopper penguins are very interesting animals.
